

Among the many reasons families choose the protection of a long-term care plan, the main reason is to ensure peace of mind during a time of need.

As you know, “life happens,” and needs that seemed far off can appear quite unexpectedly in front of us. In working with adult daughters and sons, time and again I’ve heard:

“When my father got sick, I wasn’t ready - When his health declined, so did my mom’s and I wasn’t ready.”

I’ve watched friends care for their parents or put them in elder care, but even after learning how challenging the care process is, many are not prepared when it comes time to make care decisions.

It would be an honor to be your consultant. I’m ready, willing and able to assist you in protecting your family’s assets with coverage that helps pay for senior care services. In fact, many financial institutions and professional financial planners consider senior care planning to be a critical component of a family’s overall asset management strategy.

“9 out of 10 Americans 65 and older want to stay at home for as long as possible, and 80 percent think their current home is where they will always live.”

As your trusted agent I am always looking for ways to provide added value and dedicated support for you and your family, so I’m excited to be able to share an excellent resource with my clients and their families and friends.

Amada Senior Care is a nationwide agency offering essential services for seniors and their families, including:

- Initiating, filling and managing LTCi claims with your carrier, when the need arises
- Guidance and willingness to hold your hand through the claims process
- Trained in-home caregivers providing non-medical care
- Expert care coordination in your area

You don’t have to go it alone trying to figure out how to arrange and pay for caregiver services you may one day need while preserving family assets. Remember, we are in this together.

I’m happy to be a resource for you and others you know. Feel free to forward my contact information.
